Building in Alabama
with special guest speaker
Governor Bob Riley

Meeting Announcement

Program Summary
Alabama’s economy is recognized as one of the strongest in America ranking fourth among the 50 states in employment growth, fourth in average annual pay growth and first in the variety of industry located in our state. For the second consecutive year, Alabama was named “State of the Year” by Southern Business and Development magazine. This publication covers 17 southern states. To be number one in this region is a great achievement for Alabama. Together, these states comprise the fourth largest economy in the world. On the economic front, the South leads the nation and Alabama leads the South.

Make plans to join us as Governor Bob Riley will discuss the future of the building industry in our state, what is going on around us today and where we are headed tomorrow.
